LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENTS

Greetings! Since 2003, Praxis has been providing training and educational resourcing for the global Body of Christ. This has been through both Praxis-sponsored and denominational events, as well as in our own local churches. To this point, our work has been more in the area of continuing education. Sensing a call from God for a broader and deeper influence in His Kingdom efforts through a more formal educational process, we are organizing our efforts under The Trivium Institute for Leader Development.

Join us as we walk with Jesus in this great adventure of discovering your future and developing you to walk with Him in it!

In His love,

Tom Johnston
Co-President

Mike Chong Perkinson
Co-President

THE PRAXIS CENTER FOR CHURCH DEVELOPMENT

The Praxis Center for Church Development began out of a relationship between two very different Christian brothers who shared a common journey with Jesus. Tom Johnston and Mike Chong Perkinson - the former on the East Coast of the U.S.A. and the latter on the West Coast - came together as colleagues with a passion to see the Church in the West renewed and Christian leaders developed around the simplicity of the New Testament and the Jesus way of discipleship.

Founded in 2003, Praxis has worked with pastors, leaders and churches from over sixty different denominational groups in the areas of leader development, church development, and church multiplication. The Praxis team has provided coaching, training, mentoring, and strategic consultations with churches and denominational groups, with a special focus on church and leader multiplication systems, by resourcing through relationship.

The Trivium Institute for Leader Development is a ministry of Praxis, and embodies the fullness of both learning and experience that the Praxis team has gleaned from decades of field experience in both ministry and education. The Trivium Institute is the next step in the work of Praxis, serving as a cutting-edge platform for Christian leader development.

THE TRIVIUM INSTITUTE FOR LEADER DEVELOPMENT

THE IRREDUCIBLE CORE

We believe that Jesus is calling us into a way of life, going beyond simply believing in God to embracing His lordship in our lives and receiving all the benefits of His Kingdom rule (Luke 4:16-21). Jesus made some very powerful summary statements about all of this, recorded in the Gospel of Matthew. First, in Matthew 22:34-40 it says—

But when the Pharisees heard that he had silenced the Sadducees, they gathered together. And one of them, a lawyer, asked him a question to test him. “Teacher, which is the great commandment in the Law?”

And he said to him, “You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind. This is the great and first commandment. And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments depend all the Law and the Prophets.”

In answering the man’s question, Jesus quotes from Deuteronomy 6:5 and Leviticus 19:18b, joining together the loving of God with our whole life and our loving of others. By saying “a second is like it,” Jesus makes them of equal importance, indicating that one cannot truly love God if they do not have love for the people whom God has created. The man came to Jesus asking what the greatest rule was, and Jesus speaks instead of the commandments of God being about two relationships—our relationship with God and our relationships with others—all rooted in the love He has already showed us (1 John 4:19). Indeed, we often call the passage The Great Commandments, as it sums up what God is seeking in His people. In fact in John 13:34-35, Jesus said He was giving all who followed Him a new commandment—

Little children, yet a little while I am with you. You will seek me, and just as I said to the Jews, so now I also say to you, ‘Where I am going you cannot come.’ A new commandment I give to you, that you love one another: just as I have loved you, you also are to love one another. By this all people will know that you are my disciples, if you have love for one another.”

Jesus told the Pharisee who came to him that all of the Hebrew scripture was summed up in these two things—loving God with everything we are and loving and caring for our neighbor even as we would love and care for ourselves. Everything the Lord God was trying to communicate to people was how we could be restored back into relationship with our Father in Heaven and with each other. That’s good news! And that’s what Jesus came to teach us as being central to the way of life He was calling us to—a way of love. These “great commandments” are the heart of all that Jesus wanted us to know and to live.

The second aspect of Jesus’ call to His way of life was His commission to His followers to, as they journeyed through life, make more disciples, as we see in Matthew 28:18-20—

And Jesus came and said to them, “All authority in heaven and earth has been given to me. Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you. And behold, I am with you always, to the end of the age.”

Jesus' instruction was that what He had commanded His followers to embrace, they were now to teach others how to do, so they too might come back into relationship with God and join the way of life Jesus had set out for us. Jesus commissioned these disciples to tell people about Him, share His teaching and to show people what following Him looks like—how to live the way of Jesus. The “go therefore” could be translated “in going from here” or “as you go from here” —basically, as you go through life, make disciples. Share the good news of Jesus, showing people how to live His way of love as their way of life. Christians often refer to this passage in Matthew 28 as The Great Commission, the sending forth of His disciples, which extends to all Christians even in our day. We believe we too are to join Christ Jesus in His mission of seeing His Kingdom extended and more people reconciled with their Father, everywhere we go.

As we look at these two passages in Matthew we see a summary of the life Jesus called us to—we are to love God with everything we are, to love others as we would ourselves and to make more disciples of Jesus as we go through life. The Great Commandments and the Great Commission are at the heart of the Jesus way. We refer to this as the “Irreducible Core of the Christian Life,” or “IC.” We believe that you can do more than this, but we don't believe Jesus asks us to do less than this. The “IC” is the place where everything in Trivium starts and shapes everything we do within the Institute, building on the commands and commission of Jesus Christ. It is from here that we draw our defining statement: “Love. Life. Leadership.” God's love, experienced and lived out in the totality of life in community with others, learning to give leadership to Kingdom endeavors He engages us in.

OUR VISION

Our vision is to develop a generation of leadership illuminated and led by the Spirit who will work in partnership with Him for the expansion of the Kingdom of God, seeing the holistic integration of the Irreducible Core into every aspect of life.

OUR MISSION

The Trivium exists to holistically develop leaders through whom the Lord can work to bring transformation to their families, churches and societies through incarnational living. Through a focus on developing leaders for service in the Church. We seek to see the presence of the Kingdom of God expressed in wholeness, reconciliation, and peace for all God's created order.

OUR VALUES

These are the things that are most important to the leadership of the Trivium Institute, and consequently shape both the purpose and means used by the Institute.

Imago Dei

All people should be valued because they are image bearers – the image of God

Wholeness

The Father's heart of love desires for us to become whole through Christ in body, mind and spirit and for us to bring His wholeness to others, our society and our world

Reconciliation

Christ came to reconcile His creation to the Father, and has included us in the ministry of reconciliation

Transformation

Personal and societal transformation is possible and a desired outcome of the Gospel

The Kingdom of God

His Kingdom is the centerpole of our lives, its extension a primary focus of our lives

OUR PHILOSOPHY OF EDUCATION

Oddly enough, there is no one agreed upon definition of education. The word “educate” comes from the Latin, educare, which means to lead out. All educational processes are driven by a philosophy of what education is, and there are many. All such philosophies of education have as their goal the shaping of an individual for some aspect of life in a particular society. The goal is to shape the society through education. Trivium is no different, as the goal is to educate leaders from a Kingdom-centered worldview, receptively shaping both the person and the larger society around them. Along with our vision, mission, and values, these seven key elements shape our philosophy of education and guide our educational process:

1. Irreducible Core: Loving God, loving others, and as you go, making disciples
2. Rabbinical Process: Embracing a discipleship-based apprenticeship model
3. Holistic Development: development, not just education, of the whole person
4. Integrated Learning unto a Way of Life: Life is the curriculum
5. Life-giving Relationships and Community: The environment God uses to shape us
6. Scriptural Genesis: Everything is rooted in the Scripture
7. Spirit-Empowerment: Grace-empowerment is essential for effective living

OUR STATEMENT OF FAITH

Essentially, our view of God, the nature and work of Christ, and the person and work of the Holy Spirit, as well as our view of the Church, can most be summed up in the ancient creeds, specifically The Apostle's Creed and its expansion, The Nicene Creed, and our view of the Holy Scriptures.

THE APOSTLE'S CREED

In its earliest form, The Apostle's Creed was used by the early Church father Hippolytus (c. 215 A.D.) as a series of questions and responses used to prepare new converts for water baptism.

*I believe in God, the Father almighty, creator of heaven and earth.
I believe in Jesus Christ, God's only Son, our Lord, who was conceived by the Holy Spirit,
born of the Virgin Mary,
suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, died, and was buried;
he descended into hell.*

*On the third day he rose again;
he ascended into heaven,
he is seated at the right hand of the Father, from where he will come again to judge the living and the dead.*

*I believe in the Holy Spirit,
the holy catholic church,
the communion of saints,
the forgiveness of sins,*

*the resurrection of the body,
and the life everlasting. AMEN.*

THE NICENE CREED

Originally written at the First Ecumenical Council at Nicene (325 A.D.) and expanded and clarified at the Council of Carthage (381 A.D.)

We believe in one God the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth, and of all things visible and invisible.

And in one Lord Jesus Christ, the only-begotten Son of God, begotten of the Father before all worlds, God of God, Light of Light, Very God of Very God, begotten, not made, being of one substance with the Father by whom all things were made; who for us men, and for our salvation, came down from heaven, and was incarnate by the Holy Spirit of the Virgin Mary, and was made man, and was crucified also for us under Pontius Pilate. He suffered and was buried, and the third day he rose again according to the Scriptures, and ascended into heaven, and sits on the right hand of the Father. And he shall come again with glory to judge both the living and the dead, whose kingdom shall have no end.

And we believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord and Giver of Life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son together is worshiped and glorified, who spoke by the prophets. And we believe in one holy catholic and apostolic Church. We acknowledge one baptism for the remission of sins. And we look for the resurrection of the dead, and the life of the world to come. Amen.

THE HOLY SCRIPTURE

Beyond these two Creeds, we consider the Bible to be the Holy Scriptures. Our acceptance of the Creeds is based on their biblical genesis and are simply a way to make some definitive statements about God and His working in the affairs of humanity. We have a very high regard for Scripture, and we think that the Lausanne Covenant expressed it well when they stated:

We affirm the divine inspiration, truthfulness and authority of both Old and New Testament Scriptures in their entirety as the only written word of God, without error in all that it affirms, and the only infallible rule of faith and practice.

Trivium is a definitively an orthodox Christian school with a Kingdom-centric world-view.

LOCAL COMMUNITY LIFE

MENTOR

The Mentor holds one of the most important positions in the entire Trivium process because he or she has the most frequent contact with the student. The mentor initiates the student's engagement with Trivium by inviting him or her into the educational/developmental process. The mentor partners with the Lord in shaping the individual's life through shared life with the protégé through intentional weekly engagement.

The mentor will also seek such leadership opportunities for students as part of their development, working with the students to find proper ministry assignments within the congregation according to the gifting and grace of the student.

Concerning the Mentor: It is to be understood that mentors working with students within the Institute are neither employees nor legal agents of The Trivium Institute for Leader Development. Students association with the mentor, while a required part of the Institute program, is voluntary. The Trivium Institute provides mentor orientation, training and certification to prepare and equip mentors for service within the program, however the Institute cannot warrant the personal practices of the mentors as they engage with the students, or the ability of a mentor to maintain their mentoring relationship with a student due to unforeseen circumstances. If a mentor is unable to continue with a student for whatever reason, a new mentor will be assigned by the Institute so that the student may complete their program. However, the new mentor may not be in the locale the student resides within.

LOCAL CHURCH ENGAGEMENT

Students invited to participate in The Trivium Institute are Christians who have already demonstrated the potential for leadership in a local Christian church community. Because it is through the relationships found in local Christian community that the Lord shapes and develops us, all Trivium Institute students are expected to be engaged in the life and mission of a local congregation. This community engagement is seminal to the holistic development and formation of the individual. To that end, there are a number of expectations concerning living life together in such a community. The specifics of these expectations can be found within the Student Covenant at the end of this section.

STUDENT CODE OF CONDUCT

Students within the Institute are expected to maintain a high level of personal integrity in their conduct because the servant-leader in the Church of Jesus Christ is held to high accountability. All students are expected to take responsibility for maintaining their personal moral and character integrity.

Therefore all students are expected to:

- Regularly and consistently participation in a local church
- Seek to engage to the fullest extent possible in the life and ministry of the church, under the direction of their mentor
- After prayerful consideration and discussion with their mentor, engage in servant-leadership within their congregations.

Relational Standards

The core commands of Jesus Christ are about love: loving God and loving others. Students within the Institute are expected to walk in love, honoring others above themselves through their behavior, speech and actions. This other-orientation is at the heart of the Trivium ethos of Love, Life and Leadership.

Marital Standard

Christ teaches that God as our Creator defined marriage to be an unconditional covenant between one man and one woman that unites them into one corporate body. Married students are expected to walk in the integrity of this covenant, both emotionally and physically. Students encountering marital problems should seek the loving, compassion support of their mentor in working through such difficulties.

Sexual Standards

The Trivium Institute for Leader Development believes that sexual activity must be reserved for marriage, which is the covenant union between one man and one woman, and that abstaining from sexual activity prior to marriage is required. The Institute believes that premarital, extramarital, and homosexual sexual activity, as well as the use of pornographic materials, to be inconsistent with the teaching of Scripture. All students are expected to abstain from what the Institute believes to be such unbiblical sexual practices.

Substance Abuse & Addiction

The use and abuse of drugs and alcohol is a growing problem within the culture. Illicit drug use, misuse of prescription medication, alcohol abuse and drunkenness are not permitted at any time by Trivium students. Students who may be struggling with these issues should seek the help of their mentor and other qualified professionals for help in overcoming these problems.

Submission to Civil & Spiritual Authorities

Scripture teaches that we are to be subject to civil authorities and we are to abide by all laws governing our societies when they do not grossly conflict with the teaching of Scripture. Students are to honor such authorities, praying for them as persons and in their governmental role. Likewise, we are to honor and submit to those spiritual leaders in our lives. This includes our pastors, the Trivium Faculty and Staff, as well as the student's mentor, as well as other the Lord may have in our lives.

STUDENT COMMUNITY LIFE COVENANT

As part of the Registration Process, you will receive a Student Community Life Covenant which will require signature. The expectations are as follows:

We affirm that the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments are the definitive guide for our way of life, seeking to be not only hearers, but doers of the Word.

We believe that Jesus Christ gave His followers two Great Commandments which summarized the teaching of Scripture – to love the Lord our God with all of our heart and with all our soul and with all our mind, and to love our neighbor as ourselves, and that He has commissioned us to share His way of love with others as we walk through daily life. It is in the context of this “Irreducible Core” that we will live and minister.

We accept and affirm the Doctrinal Statement of The Trivium Institute for Leader Development in its entirety and seek to live it out through the values of the Institute:

Imago Dei – valuing all of humankind as we all bear the image of God

Wholeness – seeking personal wholeness through Christ, and sharing His wholeness with others

Reconciliation – having been reconciled to God through Christ, we will seek to be agents of His reconciliation with all humankind

Transformation – embracing spiritual disciplines, we will continually seek transformation in Christ, and we will seek such transformation for our families, our Church and our society

The Kingdom of God – we will seek to live Kingdom-centric lives, as there is nothing more important than the Kingdom of God

We will live life together with others in Kingdom community and we will seek to maintain the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace through living out the “Five Relational Words” of Ephesians 4:2 (humility, gentleness, patience, forbearance and love) within the contexts of all our relationships – home, Church and world.

We are devoted to Christ, His Church and His mission of Kingdom extension and consequently affirm and bless all denominations within the universal Church who affirm Christ as Lord and Savior and will seek Kingdom partnerships whenever possible for the extension of the Kingdom of God.

We believe that the Kingdom mission of Jesus Christ extends to all creation, and that the redemption and reconciliation for all that He has made is His ultimate goal. Consequently, Christian mission is the extension of His Kingdom through the proclamation of the Gospel, working for the transform of society and its institutions and engaging in care for the creation.

As such, each student must agree to abide by Student Code of Conduct and the Academic Policies and Procedures (as described in the Student Handbook) of The Trivium Institute for Leader Development.

ACADEMIC POLICIES & PROCEDURES

PLAGIARISM AND HONESTY POLICY

Here at The Trivium Institute for Leader Development, we expect our students to conduct themselves with the highest standard of ethics in their written and oral assignments, presenting original work to the instructors, as part of their Student Covenant. Plagiarism is the presentation of another person's words, ideas, outlines, illustrations, artwork, pictures or graphs as your own without quotation marks, footnotes or internal citation. When you do not give credit to the work of another, you have committed a serious form of academic dishonesty that carries serious consequences.

Therefore, we have established the following policy in regard to plagiarism and academic misconduct.

If an instructor suspects plagiarism or cheating:

1. The student will be contacted by the instructor to discuss the situation at hand. The instructor will determine if an offense has occurred and may ask the student to redo the work.
2. If the instructor determines that the offense is blatant, he/she will notify the student, the student's mentor, and the Director of Program Development at The Trivium and disciplinary action will be as follows:
 - 1st offense: Assignment will receive a zero grade.
 - 2nd offense: The student will fail that course.
 - 3rd offense: The student will be dismissed from The Trivium Institute.
3. The student may appeal the offense before the Ethics Committee of The Trivium Institute.
4. Documentation of each offense will be part of the student's permanent record.

TIMELINES

Students enrolled in the certificate programs take only one course at a time. The courses must be taken in the sequence as listed under each certificate program. The student should expect that each course (other than continuing education courses) will take about ten weeks and about 100 hours to complete. Each course is offered as a self-paced study program; students can anticipate completing each certificate in approximately 18-24 months.

WITHDRAWAL & DISMISSAL

Sometimes in the life of a student, situations arise that make it difficult for them to continue in their academic endeavor, and a student might choose to voluntarily withdraw from, or be involuntarily dismissed from, The Trivium Institute.

Voluntary Withdrawal

Students may choose to voluntarily withdraw from The Trivium Institute either temporarily or permanently for a variety of reasons, such as ill health, financial difficulties, academic difficulties, changes in work or family situations, etc. If a student feels that voluntary dismissal is an option, he or she should first contact the mentor for an appointment to discuss the situation. If, after this meeting, the student still wishes to withdraw, the student must complete a Program Withdrawal Form which states the type of voluntary withdrawal and reason for withdrawal. Upon completion, this will be sent to the Registrar's Office and become part of the student's permanent record.

Voluntary Academic Suspension

This form of voluntary withdrawal is possible only when the student the student has good academic standing, but needs to suspend his or her academic pursuit for a season because of life circumstances. If a student feels this necessary, he or she should first contact the mentor for an appointment to discuss the situation. If, after this meeting, the student still wishes to withdraw, the student must complete a Program Withdrawal Form which states the type of voluntary withdrawal and reason for withdrawal. Upon completion, this will be sent to the Registrar's Office and become part of the student's permanent record. When the student is ready to continue with his or her studies, he or she should contact the mentor as the initial part of the process of return.

Involuntary Dismissal

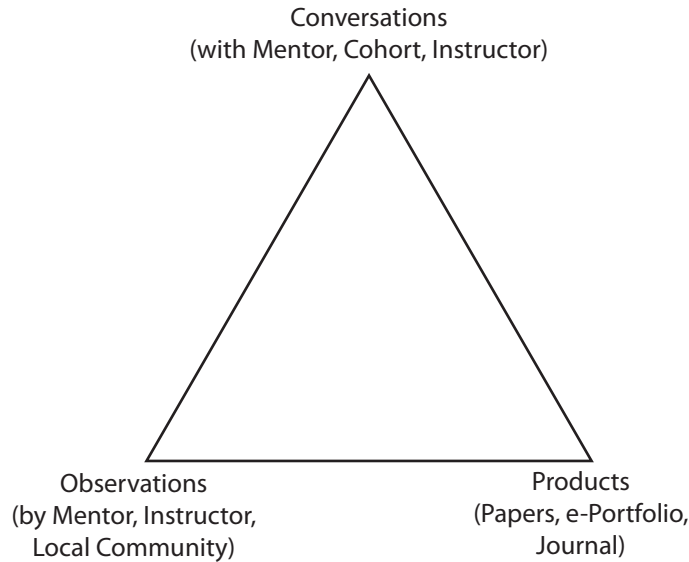

The Trivium Institute reserves the right to either temporarily or permanently dismiss a student for a variety of reasons, such as failing to meet financial obligations, failing to meet academic competencies (including non-participation in a course for more than 35 consecutive days), breaking the Student Covenant, or behaving in a manner unbecoming of a leader professing to be a disciple of Christ. Requests for dismissal can be initiated by the mentor or a member of The Trivium Institute staff by contacting the Director of Program Development. If The Trivium Institute feels that dismissal is necessary, the student and the mentor will be contacted by the Director to discuss the situation. If, after this meeting, a decision is made to either temporarily or permanently dismiss the student, the student and the mentor will receive an official letter of dismissal that states the length and reason(s) for dismissal. Upon completion, this will be sent to the Registrar's Office and become part of the student's permanent record.

GRADING

The Trivium Institute has as its goal to educate from a Kingdom-centered worldview, receptively shaping both the person and the larger society around them based on seven key elements of our philosophy of education, therefore, all educational processes including grading and assessments are shaped by these elements. Because "life is the curriculum" and learning occurs both inside and outside the classroom, The Trivium Institute employs formative assessment and competency-based assessment.

Formative Assessment

Formative assessment employs a range of formal and informal procedures employed by instructors, mentors and students during the learning process in order to modify teaching and learning activities to improve student attainment by providing continual feedback. Based on principles of formative assessment and adult education, students are assessed based on the completion/mastery of learning objectives; therefore, assignments are not given specific weights. Instead assessment is based on a triangulation of conversations, observations and products for which specific objectives have been established (see the following diagram).

Competency-Based

Transitioning away from seat time, in favor of a structure that creates flexibility, competency-based strategies allow students to progress as they demonstrate mastery of academic content and life and ministry skills regardless of time, place, or pace of learning. Competency-based assessment provides a way that credit can be earned or awarded with personalized learning opportunities. These strategies include online academics, project-based and community-based learning. This type of learning leads to better student engagement because the content is relevant to each student and tailored to their unique needs (<http://www.ed.gov/oii-news/competency-based-learning-or-personalized-learning>).

Final Grading

Final Grading is, therefore, based upon the success with which a student has met pre-established objectives as determined by formative and competency-based assessment tools. Students will receive a “C” for competent if the objectives have been met, a “U” for unsatisfactory if the objectives have not been met (yet), and “I” for incomplete for work that fails to meet the objectives or has not been turned in within the specific deadlines.

Assignment Extensions

If a student anticipates not completing a paper or project on time, or has received a “U” for unsatisfactory on an assignment, he or she should contact the course instructor before the assignment is due or soon after receiving an unsatisfactory grade to discuss the possibility of an extension of that assignment. Whether or not the student is given an extension is at the discretion of the instructor. If a student does not satisfactorily complete the assignment/project after this grace period, he or she will be given an Incomplete as a grade. At that point, the student, The Trivium Institute, the Site Director and the Mentor will be included in a conversation about proceeding further.

Repeating Courses

Because each course is a pre-requisite to the one following, students must meet all the outcomes of a course and receive a satisfactory grade before proceeding to the next course. In the event that a student does not receive a satisfactory grade for a particular course, the student must contact the Registrar's Office and apply to retake the same course for an additional fee (see Tuition & Fees). Students may only repeat the same course once.

Advancement

Advancement in a student's chosen school of study, particular degree program and within a module is contingent upon evidence of satisfactory completion of all objectives in academics, projects, e-portfolio and local community life.

Incomplete

A student will receive an Incomplete for a course or a module if assignments or projects are not turned in or have not met the objectives, or if the student's e-portfolio is not maintained. At this point, the student and the mentor will be contacted by The Trivium Institute to discuss the student's desire or ability to continue (see Withdrawal and Dismissal).

STYLE GUIDELINES

Writing papers is an important part of any college course because it allows the student the opportunity to communicate what they have learned with clarity, precision, conciseness and elegance. Standardized formatting of papers also aides in the communication and presentation of the student's message; therefore, The Trivium Institute has decided to follow the format of style established by the American Psychological Association (APA) for citation and formatting of all papers. Students may purchase either a hard copy (suggest spiral bound) or online copy from Amazon Books. Title: Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, 7th Ed. American Psychological Association. (2019). Washington DC: APA.

ACADEMIC ENGAGEMENT

TECH PLATFORM & REQUIREMENTS

The official Platform for Course Content is trivium.instructure.com and requires a secure login. The initial access to "Canvas" will be set up by the Registrar and an email will be sent to the student that they have been set up as a user. The student will not be able to view courses until they are officially registered for that course.

Supported Browsers

Because it's built using web standards, Canvas runs on Windows, Mac, Linux, iOS, Android, or any other device with a modern web browser.

This is a list of basic computer system requirements to use Canvas. It is always recommended to use the most up-to-date versions and better internet connections. Canvas will still run with the minimum specifications, but you may experience slower loading times.

Basic Computer Specifications

Canvas runs on Windows, Mac, iOS, Android, or any other device* with a modern web browser.

Browsers

You should always use the most current version of your preferred browser. Your browser will notify you if there is a new version available.

Canvas no longer supports Internet Explorer (10 & 11), you are highly encouraged to use Chrome, Safari, or Firefox for the best user experience. When using a browser that does not support the minimum requirements for Canvas, you will receive a message prompt "your browser does not meet the minimum requirements for Canvas".

Plugins

Canvas requires the following browser components:

Flash is required for media recording, streaming, viewing, and uploading.

The Java plug-in is required for several features in Canvas.

Adobe Acrobat Reader is required to view documents in your browser.

Operating Systems

Windows 7 and newer

As of January 5, 2019, Android apps require version 5.0 or later and iOS apps require version 12 or later. All Android and iOS both support the two most recent versions of their respective operating systems.*

PROJECTS

At The Trivium Institute, module projects are a part of all certificate programs, and each project is designed to give students the opportunity to apply their learning and leadership skills in the community (see Course Catalog). All projects must be approved prior to beginning any project. Students must obtain a Project Approval Form from the Registrar's Office and return the completed form to the Registrar's Office. A Faculty Project Committee will review the project and contact the student when approved. Any incomplete forms will be returned before approval is granted. It is recommended that students seek approval of projects well before the certificate program.

CERTIFICATE COMPLETION

Because The Trivium Institute is a global endeavor and student enrollment is "rolling", traditional completion ceremonies are not possible. However, as every student is an active member of a local community, we strongly recommend that the local community celebrate each student's achievement as they see fit. Issuing of certification is contingent upon successful completion of each certificate program and project, and fulfillment of all financial obligations. Students will receive their official certificate or degree directly from The Trivium Institute prior to any local celebration. Official transcripts will be available sixty days after certificate or degree completions. Of course, The Trivium Institute staff would be glad to be a part of your local celebration, if time and travel permit.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

RATIONAL BEHIND FEE STRUCTURE

Why do want graduates to be debt free? Student debt is a growing problem in the United States with more than 1.2 Trillion dollars owed by students, many who never graduate from the programs in which they enroll. It is the largest single category of personal debt in our nation.

Many Christian students have been prevented from fully and passionately pursuing their God-given calling in vocation and mission due to such debt load.

The development of the Institute has been a labor of love from a team of professionals engaged in real-world activities represented by each school. They have sacrificed and donated their time, knowledge, creative abilities and experience to keep the cost to the student at a minimum. In addition artisans, technical staff and donors have partners with us to make The Trivium Institute for Leader Development a reality, seeking to provide to you the student the development and education you need to pursue your calling while freeing you from the burden of debt. Your response to God's gracious gift to you through these people is to be diligent to keep your financial obligations in the program and work hard at your coursework.

Our goal with this financial arrangement is that students graduate debt-free from the Institute. To that end each course must be paid-in-full before starting each course in the program or have a payment plan established with the Trivium Registrar.

TH 102 - THEOLOGY OF WORK

Work has a purpose in extending God's Kingdom and is a creative expression of our partnership with Him. Through this course you will understand the biblical framework for vocation as a significant element of life as well as discern how the practice of your vocation adds to God's Kingdom extension.

BS 104 - THE LIFE & MINISTRY OF JESUS

This course is a study of the life and ministry of Jesus as recorded in the four gospels, beginning with Jesus' birth and childhood and continuing through his death and resurrection. It examines the life and ministry of Jesus as a Rabbi within His social milieu, as the Son of Man in fulfillment of Old Testament prophecy as written and interpreted by Judaism, as the sacrifice (vicarious death) and administrator of God's eternal plan, and as an example and model for all to follow in life (vicarious life) and ministry.

LD 101 - INTRODUCTION TO SPIRITUAL LEADERSHIP

Leadership is influence, and the leader's influence is rooted in their own personal spirituality. Through our lives, both in action and in our words, we can influence people towards God's preferred future for their lives. This course will help you understand the biblical concept of leadership, identify your key leadership strengths and develop more fully your own leadership ability.

TP #1 - LOCAL SERVICE PROJECT: 30 HOURS IN AN EXISTING SECULAR SERVICE ORGANIZATION

For this certificate, students will find and serve in a local, secular service organization. Students will demonstrate being leaders by being servants and observe and learn leadership principles from existing organizations.

CERTIFICATE IN CHRISTIAN MINISTRY

BS 201 - THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO MARK

This course will look at the mission, ministry, and model of Jesus life and leadership as recorded by Mark in relationship to its historical context of Roman persecution under Nero and its theological themes of the Kingdom of God, the wilderness, the restoration of Eden, the heightened power conflict between good and evil, the radical failure of Jesus' followers and Jesus as the suffering Messiah. This course will also explore the clarity of mission, views of people, an empowerment model of leadership, and Mark as a storyteller that leads his readers along certain lines of thought and behavior as he describes what God has done, calling and challenging his readers to respond.

SF 201 - INTRODUCTION TO DISCIPLESHIP: THE WAY OF JESUS

Jesus, the Master Rabbi, commissioned His disciples to make more disciples everywhere they went in life. In this course you will come to understand the Jesus Way of discipleship, and how you can continue in effective partnership with Him in the contemporary role-of disciple-maker.

TH 201 - SYSTEMATIC THEOLOGY

One cannot do a living theology without a relationship with the living God. Theology done in the confines of academia that limits the Trinitarian reality of community, unity and mutuality undermines the relational cohesion of the Godhead, reducing the Incarnation to a wrath satisfying atonement for our sins that is expressed more in propositional truths (epistemology) than a relationship with God in and through Jesus Christ. This course, will help the student build a holistic, coherent and cohesive theology based upon the Trinity, the Torah, and the Irreducible Core as it pertains to God's eternal plan and original design for and final consummation of creation.

TH 202 - TRINITY, COMMUNITY & HOLISTIC MISSION

The keys to effectively understanding the holistic mission of the church lie within our understanding of God ontologically and economically. How God is within Himself is then the foundation for how we were meant to holistically live as sons and daughters of God the Father, servants and stewards of His Kingdom.

TH 203 - ECCLESIOLOGY

What is the Church? What does it exist? Who does it exist for? How should it gather? Does ecclesiology inform mission or does mission inform ecclesiology? This course will help the student be able to biblically answer these questions as well as understand that ecclesiology deals with the origins of Christianity in relationship to Jesus, its role in salvation, its polity, its discipline, its destiny, and how the Church is led.. The focus of the course will aid the student in not only understanding the church in its function, but also in its ontology, being as it flows from and pertains to the relationship of the Trinitarian community.

LD 201 - LEADERSHIP PRINCIPLES FROM THE NEW TESTAMENT

The keys to effective spiritual leadership are found within the New Testament Scriptures. Based in the life and ministry of Jesus, as well as the writings of the Apostles, this course will help you identify the essential leadership principles from the New Testament, understand them conceptually and make concrete application in your life, family, vocation and ministry.

LD 202 - HOLISTIC LEADER DEVELOPMENT

A leader is someone who influences others towards the God-preferred Kingdom future of the individual or group in which that person resides. Leadership is the action of leading or influencing others; therefore, the leader gives leadership to individual people, groups and organizations based on who they are as a whole person. Therefore leader development must occur in a holistic sense, as the leader gives leadership to others through both who they are and what they do. This course equips the learner to engage in holistic leader development by helping others grow in their identity in Christ, in their capacity of heart, and in their understanding of their unique destiny skillset through which they engage in Kingdom mission.

BS 202 - THE LETTER OF PAUL TO THE EPHESIANS

Ephesians has been called the ‘quintessence of Pauline theology’ (F. F. Bruce). It is a prayerful epistle that explores the reality of a lived theology and the ethical ramifications of peace in Christ. This course is an exegetical and theological/ethical study of this remarkable epistle of Paul that will aid the student in grasping the larger, eternal themes contained in Ephesians that pertain to God’s eternal plan, Christ as the full expression of that plan and the mystery of Christ that is now revealed.

HI 201 - THE FOUNDATIONS OF WESTERN HERITAGE

This course entails a survey of the major currents in Western civilization from its beginnings in the ancient Near East to the mid-17th Century. Students will learn of the political, economic, military, cultural, and religious developments in the ancient, medieval, and early modern periods that constitute the foundation of modern Western thought. The purpose of this course is to explore the ways in which modern man is indebted to the Greeks for our philosophy, the Romans for our legal system, and the Hebrews for our religious foundations.

HI 203 - PANORAMA OF CHURCH HISTORY

This course will give a large scale overview of the theological and historical life of the Church since its birth with an overview of the major events in the life of the church. A primary method in the course will be the study of individuals who made major contributions to the life of the church over the centuries.

ED 201 - INTRODUCTION TO RABBINICAL METHOD

Jesus was the Master Rabbi, and like the Jewish Sages of His era, leading, teaching and developing new leaders happened through a unique methodology. Sharing common elements of leading and educating with other ancient cultures, the rabbinical method engaged those being led, taught and developed in a holistic, whole-life pursuit. Rediscovered in the current era, and perhaps as relevant in leadership application today as it was in Jesus' day, this course will equip you with the basic understanding how Rabbi Jesus lead and taught, and how you can undertake your own leadership engagement through Jesus' rabbinical way.

TP #2 - LOCAL ADVOCACY PROJECT: 30 HOURS ADVOCATING FOR AN INDIVIDUAL OR GROUP

Students will identify a need of an individual or group in their local community. Students will then lead a team that will build and execute a ministry designed to meet the need. While students may, as a part of their plan, partner with existing ministries/organizations, the focus is on the creation of something that does not currently exist.
